PASTOR'S CORNER

The great difficulty in believing is not seeing. Some people think we're gullible to believe what we can't see, but really, most of what people think throughout their lifetime are precisely things told them by others—which they never verify but just accept, if they trust the speaker.

Well, none of us has ever seen the risen Lord in his human form. No one but a tiny fraction of the early Church did: his own Mother (naturally), the apostles, Mary Magdalene, and some of the disciples. Jesus appeared to his disciples for forty days before the Ascension, so probably a few more. We don't know how many to be sure, but definitely a small number relative to the number of his disciples. And compared to those who would come to believe based on the preaching of the apostles after Pentecost? Miniscule. And those who would come to believe down through the ages, based on the word shared by believers? Infinitesimally few. Yet the faith that exists in the hearts of believers today is the same faith—undiluted, undiminished—that was in the hearts of those few witnesses. This is how it pleased God that we should come to faith in the Resurrection of his Son Jesus. First, through the divine and human Word which is Christ himself, God translated into human nature, and then, by the spoken human word of others, all sinners, many of whom were called upon to give firmness to their testimony by sacrifice of their own lives. The truth of God is not subject to the wear and tear of time, like the relics of his saints or the burial shroud of Christ. Faith gives us access to God himself, a share in his own vision, and the only thing that limits that share for ourselves is the intensity of our own response to this gracious divine initiative in our lives.

If we trust the speaker of this message, is it insane to believe it? Why should anything be impossible for God? Should the fact that this news fulfills the deepest and most universal desire of the human heart count against it? Resurrexit Christus, sicut dixit, alleluia, alleluia!

PARISH MEMBERSHIP All parishioners should participate fully in parish life (this especially means worshipping at Mass on all Sundays and Holy Days of Obligation), be registered here, and contribute to the support the parish to the extent possible. We often get requests for recommendations and permissions for parishioners to serve as godparents and sponsors. If we don't know you, we can't give that testimony on your behalf. You may have been baptized here (or gone to Catholic schools) but you need to be currently practicing and registered in your local parish (children are obviously registered with their parents; adults need to make their own arrangements). The Church requires that baptisms and marriages be celebrated in one's own parish. If one is not an active parishioner, problems could arise at those important times.

Baptisms Usually 1st and 3rd Sundays. Contact the pastor to schedule. First-time parents please also schedule a "pre-Jordan" preparation class—offered the 2nd Wednesday of each month, at 7:15 p.m. in the parish center.

Weddings Active parishioners contact the parish office no later than six months prior to the desired wedding date. Marriage preparation normally includes several meetings with a priest, several meetings with a mentor couple of the parish, a weekend of conferences offered by the diocesan Office of Marriage and Family Life, NFP training, and FOCCUS diagnostic. If someone in your family is planning to get married, please encourage them to speak to their pastor. The marriages of Catholics (whether or not they're marrying other Catholics) need to be conformable with Church law, and that requires that they receive suitable catechesis in preparation for marriage, and marry according to a certain rite.

Eucharistic exposition Wednesdays following the noon Mass until 7:00 p.m. Benediction. For information, and to volunteer to take hours of adoration, contact Regina Cano at (614) 582-8588.

Knights of Columbus Contact Trinidad Cano at (740) 819-8002. The K of C offer a hot breakfast every 4th Sunday following morning Masses, and lead the Rosary after the 11:00 Mass on 5th Sundays.
